Here are some simple rules that we should all be able to understand and adhere to over the months to come until there is adequate immunity to fight the virus in the community. New Zealand has done well to date so we must remain vigilant.

If you are sick, stay home

If you have cold or flu-like symptoms, get tested

Practice good hand hygiene: Wash your hands,

Sneeze and cough into your elbow.

Regularly disinfect shared surfaces

Contact tracing is important- keep note of your movements

Remain vigilant and prepared- there is still a global pandemic

Listen to the authorities: "If you're told by health authorities to self-isolate, you must do so immediately

Be kind to others and yourself, it has been very unsettling for everyone over the last few months
